Well I'm very glad that you text me I've been busy but I've been meaning to text you after I will never use your service again you're extremely rude and disrespectful mind you I am the CLIENT and I'm the one that's paying you LETS GET THOSE FACTS RIGHT. I was very respectful to you just verifying what I had planned for my birthday with the robot you were just extremely rude screaming at me and if I wasn't because I couldn't find another robot I would of sent you to hell and I would told u to shove the 25 down payment up your ass... you don't talk to people like that this is a business you have and you have a little more respect for your customers.. I have seen better costumes then yours I rather pay an extra 200 dollars then to have to deal with a someone like your self ... I wil make comment on your web site so everyone can see I will never recommend anyone to you and I know a lot of people...
